1939

Published by
THE SENIOR CLASS of '39
Tipton High School
Tipton, Indiana

Foreword

In order to have a more complete record of the good times, pleasant associations, and scholastic endeavors of the school year 1938-'39 we have prepared for you this volume of the Tiptonian. To the students and faculty—as you turn the pages of this book—may you be carried back to live again in memory the events, both joyful and otherwise, portrayed here. May the friends of the school who have encouraged us in this, our greatest literary effort, also get a picture of the work, the pleasure, the disappointments, and the dreams which make up the daily life of our school. We have no apology to make; we have labored diligently to the best of our ability. Be lenient with our mistakes—judge us not too harshly—we shall never trouble you again.

“Lend thy serious hearing to what I shall unfold.”

Dedication

To the American Boy and Girl—
the carefree youth of the present —whose training in the school of today—will prepare them for the responsibilities and activities of tomorrow, we, the Senior Class, dedicate this Thirty-ninth volume of the Tiptonian.

“Rejoice, O Young people, in thy youth.”

Human Relations

Mental

Many different factors contribute their share in building the character of the modern boy and girl, and among these the school plays a large part. Four formative years are spent in the high school, under the tuition and guidance of the faculty. Not only book knowledge itself must be gained but habits of application and industry must be learned in order for the youth to succeed in the future. He enters as a timorous, inexperienced freshman, undergoes the usual hazing and emerges at the end of the school year a cocky sophomore. Pursuing the even tenor of the usually uneventful second year the student begins to find his niche in the various studies and activities of the school. Added responsibilities of the junior year and application to studies bring the youth to the long anticipated goal—being a senior, dignified and poised. Thus after four years the American Boy and Girl, who have made the most of their opportunities, are graduated with credit, both to themselves and their school.

“The foundation of every state is the education of its youth.”

May we, the Seniors, propose a toast?

"Here's to the School Board, the broad-minded, understanding, and capable body that has guided Tipton High School through another highly successful year. It can truly be said that no other school in the country can boast of a fairer, abler executive board than Tipton High. You have acted wisely in all your dealings, and we realize that your every effort was bent toward one main purpose—the betterment of the school. We are more than glad to have the honor of graduating from such a school, because we feel that even in our later years, your influence upon us, as students, will be keenly felt.

So, in behalf of the student body, we, the Class of '39, salute you!

We thought you'd like informal snaps
Of teachers pictured here and there
Some smiling, others grim, perhaps,
But all of them caught unaware.

“ O wad some power the giftie gie us to see ourselves as ithers see us. ”

In patience, they excel—by far.
I'm sure their work is not all bliss,
They're calm and poised—and proud we are
To have a faculty like this.

"Number, please."

"Calling P-A-G-E 10." Hello, is this Lett's? May I speak to Bob, please? Hello, Bob? This is Wilbur Williams. How are you? Oh, I thought maybe you would like to chat over our old times—school days, perhaps? Remember that day back in September, 1927, when we met down the alley by the old clubhouse, and trudged so unwillingly to school for the first time? I'll say, we've gone to school a long time since then, and learned a few things, too! Sure, I remember how scared we were when we went to Junior High School for the first time, and how mixed up we got with our classes. Well, as far as that goes we were pretty green as freshmen, too, but nobody paid any attention to us that year, for that was the year Tipton had the best basketball team in the state. What's that? Oh, yes, that was the first year we had ever elected class officers. Jim Pyle was our president. Wasn't our vice president Betty Benson? Rachel Stoner began her "three-year reign" as class officer by being secretary-treasurer.

I'll say we were the "stuff" the next year. We knew all about Tipton High then, and could we throw it into the freshmen? Raymond Williams was our president for the first time, Paul Achenbach was vice president, and Rachel was secretary-treasurer again. Remember Mr. Runyon at our few class meetings, and our outing at the Noblesville park?

You know, come to think about it, we had quite a time raising money for the reception last year. Of all the hard work and penny-pinching we did at the ball games! I'll never forget that. We got settled, though, by the frugal guidance of Mr. Cline. The worst part of the whole year was the fact that after we were pretty well settled as upperclassmen, we found out that we were still considered underclassmen by the faculty, and seniors. Say, I wonder how last year's president, Bill Crim, is doing at Winchester this year. Yes, Rachel was a class officer again, and Barbara Martin was secretary. The class wasn't short a single cent at the end of the year, even if I was treasurer.

Remember how shocked the class was after the first senior class meeting, when they woke up and discovered they had elected three Williamses to office? Raymond was president again, Dorothy May was treasurer, and I had the honor of being secretary. You were vice president. I believe Miss Spencer and Mr. Hiatt are to be congratulated for the excellent guidance through the year, too.

That just about closes our school days and our topic of conversation, so I'd just better say goodbye.

"Success comes in cans, failures in can'ts."

“Calling P-A-G-E 16. Hello, is this Foster’s? May I speak to George, please? Hollo, George? This is Wilbur. Say, I’m writing some class histories for a memory book I’m keeping of my school days, and I thought perhaps you could give me a little information of the Class of ’40, since you’re the president this year. Can you help me out? Fine! Wait just a minute ’til I get some paper and a pencil, will you?—I’d like to have a list of the class officers from year to year, the class sponsors, and class activities. O. K., let’s have it. For the Freshman class, Warne Jones was president; Jack Ramsay, vice president; Bill Goodnight, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Ward was sponsor. No activities that year? Now, as Sophomores, Julianne Richards was president; Ralph Albright, vice president; Charles Ludwig, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Beerbower, sponsor. Didn’t you have a party-dance that year? I heard a lot about that. This year, you are president; Charles Ludwig, vice president; Delores Spaulding, secretary; Bob McIntosh, treasurer, and Mr. Cline, sponsor, as usual.

Say, George, do you know Phil Huffine’s phone number? I want to get something from him about the Sophomores. His number is P-A-G-E 18? Thanks a lot, so long—

JUNIORS

Third Row: Wilma Palmer, Martha Patterson, Clara Pennock, Marjorie Perry, Donald Piel, Paul Quade, Jack Ramsay, Julia Richards, Betty Sheppard, Margaret Simmonds, Meredith Sinclair, Betty Slattery.

And here we have the junior class
 Active super-salesmen, they,
 Each takes his turn, each lad and lass,
 To earn his coin in many a way.
 Happy and eager they appear
 As they approach their long sought goal
 To be the seniors of next year
 And take the reins in their control.

I’m getting some information for a memory book of my school days, and I thought maybe you could give me something about the sophomores this year, since you’re the chief executive. Sure, that’s the idea, just the names of the class officers of this year and last, the class sponsors, and the activities. Can you give them to me now? I’ve got my paper and pencil right here. You were president last year weren’t you? Keep it up; you’re doing fine! Phil Martin was vice president, Miss Sowers was sponsor, and a hike-picnic was the big event of the year. For this year—besides yourself—Albert Ludwig is vice president; Anna Brewer, secretary; David McNeal, treasurer; and Mr. Beerbower sponsor. You say you’re planning a party for the end of the year? That’s fine. Lot’s of luck to you, and thanks, Phil. So long——”

Here’s the class of forty-one
With ink-smeared palms and weary mien;
They’ve gained the right to future fun
By work—the hardest ever seen.
For they have labored hour on hour
On their “Ink Spot”, a clever sheet.
They’ve gained in poise and power
And promise to be hard to beat.

"Calling P-A-G-E 20. Hello! Is this Fretz's? May I speak to George, please? Hello, George? This is Wilbur Williams. Say, aren't you a freshman class officer? I thought so. Then you can tell me something about the freshmen this year. Who are the officers? —Jim Tudor is president, yourself, vice president, Joanne Mott, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Kegerreis, sponsor. Are you planning any kind of a party for the class? Oh, I see, you're planning on having one, but you don't know when or where as yet. Well, lots of luck, and thanks, George. So long——"

The freshman class is not well known
 In annals of high school fame,
 But by the time they are full grown
 We're sure they will have a name.
 In numbers they outshine the rest,
 In looks, too, they're not far behind.
 We feel they're striving for the best
 And that the best they'll surely find.

FRESHMEN

LITTLE WILLIE

Little Willie in the best of sashes,
Fell in the fire and burnt to ashes,
Pretty soon the room grew chilly.
'Cause no one wanted to stir up Willie.

Human Relations Varied Interests

Extra curricular activities, like the frosting on a cake, are not required but add much to the enjoyment. The various clubs give opportunity for making acquaintances and friendships, as well as for the development of various hobbies and individual interests. Membership is offered in numerous clubs including dramatics, service, music, physical education and vocational guidance. Participation in the various activities together with the students' scholastic development give the American boy and girl knowledge, poise, and ability in meeting the problems of the future.

"This world belongs to the energetic."

This year, because there were so few subscribers to the Tiptonian, it seemed likely that Tipton High School would have no annual. Frantically the salesmen rushed about, trying to sell more subscriptions before the deadline. Slowly the money piled up until at last, the day before the deadline, news was joyously received by the staff members that enough money had been collected to publish the Tiptonian!

Then began a period of work of a different sort. Group and informal pictures were taken. Materials had to be assembled, typed, corrected, and re-typed. Each member was responsible for a certain section of the book, and each worked toward the common goal, "A better Tiptonian this year than ever before."

The Tiptonian Staff of 1939 wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. Hiatt for his judicial help and original ideas, to Mr. Stemen for the "extension of time," and to all those who assisted in supplying material for this book.

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club officers are: Joseph Wiggins, President; Raymond Williams, Vice President; John Bunch, Secretary; Bob Cage, Treasurer; and Mr. Trabue, Sponsor.

The Hi-Y has a membership of thirty-nine Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors; Freshmen not being eligible until the last six-week period.

An Americanization address was presented to the student body on November 17 by Howard Meyer, prominent Indianapolis attorney, sponsored by the Hi-Y.

The Club went swimming at the Kokomo Y. M. C. A. pool on February 8, and before the holidays assisted the Sunshine girls in giving their annual Christmas party.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

President, Kathleen O'Banion; Vice President, Mary Jarrett; Secretary, Anna Brewer; Treasurer, Nina Trabue; Sponsor, Miss Edith Sowers.

This year the Sunshine Society took up the study of vocations, breaking away from the social meetings of past years. Several people gave vocational talks. Among these were: Mrs. Richards, Joan Hughes, and Jane Stewart from H. P. Wasson's at Indianapolis. With Miss Stewart was a model for girls' ensembles and one for the mother's. A surprise was in store, for she had two of our own Sunshine girls as models, too.

As in former years, the girls (assisted by the Hi-Y boys) held Christmas and Easter parties for the underprivileged children. At Thanksgiving several baskets were given to needy people.

TI-HI-EC CLUB

In October the Ti-Hi-Ec Club started the year's activities with a Hay Ride. Later on in the year a formal St. Patrick's Dance was given on March 10 at the Legion Hall. The year's programs were concerning the topic "A Successful Home." One of the special programs of the year was a book review given in January by Mrs. Lewis Richards. In April at an afternoon tea an interior decorator from L. S. Ayres spoke on the topic "Draperies for the Home" before a group of the Ti-Hi-Ec members and their mothers.

The officers for the year were: Kathryn Leist, president; Kathleen O'Banion, vice president; Barbara Dearth, treasurer; and Martha Altherr, secretary.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

President, Keith Stevens; vice president, Gene Doversberger; secretary, John Stafford; treasurer, James Heffelmire; reporter, Carl Doversberger; advisor, J. B. Oyler.

The F. F. A. is a national organization of boys studying and engaging in farming for specific vocational training. Their motto is: Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve.

Chapters are organized in every state and in Hawaii, Guam, and Cuba. Two delegates are selected from each state congress to the national congress at Kansas City, Missouri.

The degrees earned by achievement and activity are: Green Hand, Future Farmer, State Farmer, and National Farmer. A Star Farmer is chosen annually, who receives a cash award of $500 from the Kansas City Star, a leading daily paper.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

Last fall, coached by Miss Coble, Elizabeth Nicholson won first place for girls and Don Fretz won third place for boys in the North Central Indiana oratorical contest. Their competitors were from Frankfort, Lebanon, Delphi, Lafayette, and Crawfordsville. We are truly proud of the honors this girl and boy have won for Tipton High School.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST

Special tests were conducted in each of the various commerce classes and the following people were chosen to represent our school in the commercial contest, April 15, at Ball State: Rachel Stoner, Edith Emehiser, and Nina Trabue (shorthand); Wilma Palmer, Julia Ann Richards, and Martha Jean Patterson, (typing).

BAND CONTEST—

Tipton was represented in the state band contest, Saturday, April 1, by Robert Cage who won first in the saxophone contest, Madeline Hershman who won second on the French horn; Kenneth Hamilton who won second on the trumpet, and the brass quartet which won second place. The entire band will participate in a contest at Bloomington at a later date.

LATIN CONTEST

Tipton High School seemed to have real Latin scholars this year—at least from their success in the contests. Karlann Smith placed first in freshman Latin, and Evelyn Newhouse placed first in Caesar in the county contest. For their efforts each girl received a small gold pin, and were eligible to enter the district contests. Credit must be given to Miss Kegerreis for her excellent teaching.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

A committee from the senior class selected the play, "Growing Pains," for their annual production. The cast was chosen as follows:

George McIntyre.....	Owen Suits
Terry McIntyre.....	Marjorie Kinder
Mrs. McIntyre.....	Kathryn Leist
Professor McIntyre.....	Robert Burton
Sophie.....	Paulette Stuart
Mrs. Patterson.....	Rachel Stoner
Elsie Patterson.....	Marjorie Little
Traffic Officer.....	Paul Achenbach
Dutch.....	David Sallee
Brian.....	Wilbur Williams
Omar.....	Hugh Snow
Hal.....	Billy Small
Pete.....	Raymond Williams
Prudence.....	Dorothy Williams
Patty.....	Hilda Tudor
Jane.....	Barbara Martin
Miriam.....	Marie Mink
Vivian.....	Jean Moon

Extra boys and girls: Madonna Wells, Robert Cage, Rita Ertel, Dan Mattingly.

The play, given under the direction of Miss Coble, dealt with the adolescent stage of the boy and girl in the McIntyre family and the problems and disappointments that arise in this stage of life. It was excellently presented to a fine audience on Friday night, April 14, in the high school gymnasium. The play was repeated under auspices of Tri Kappas May 4th.

During the second semester of school we added several instruments to our orchestra, including the drums, trombone, saxophone, sousaphone and another trumpet. The addition of these instruments has made the class more enjoyable.

During this school year the orchestra has played on several different occasions including the junior high and senior operettas, senior class play, Methodist Church, Masonic Hall, the Christmas Program, and the National Music Week.

The members of the orchestra at the present are as follows:

Violins: Ruth Pentecost, Jane Leist, Jack Legg, Martha Havens, Dorothy Fouch, Martha Jones, Karlann Smith, and Norma J. Dell.

Clarinets: Joanne Mott and George Trabue.

Saxophones: Robert Cage and Harold Mink.

Trumpets: Joe Wiggins and Phil Huffine.

French Horns: Madolyn Hershman and Owen Suits.

Trombone: Donald Fretz.

Baritone: Raymond Jackson.

Sousaphone: George L. Foster.

Drums: Charles Ludwig.

Second Period Class

President: Marie Mink
V. President: Lois Gordon
Sec.-Treasurer: Martha Havens

Boys Glee Club

President: Donald Fretz
V. President: Donald Ross
Sec.-Treasurer: Paul Achenbach

Sixth Period Class

President: Wilma J. Palmer
V. President: Hilda Tudor
Sec.-Treasurer: Jane Leist

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club this year, under the direction of Mrs. Purvis, have worked exceptionally hard. Together they gave the operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon" on the night of March 17. They also took part in the Christmas Carol programs, the County Music Festival, and the Ball State Music Festival. Among other places, the Girls Glee Club sang for the Rotary, the Corn King's Banquet, the Sunshine Society Fashion Show, and at the Masonic Hall; the Boys' Glee Club sang for the Farm Bureau, Men's Brotherhood, Kiwanis, and the Eastern Star. During the first semester the boys, dressed as "dandies," gave a comical program for the school. The Glee Clubs also sang for the Baccalaureate and Commencement services. We can sincerely say that our Glee Club is an honor to Tipton High School.

JUNIOR MUSICALES

President, Barbara Martin; Vice President, Nina Trabue; Secretary-Treasurer, Marie Mink; Sponsor, Mrs. Purvis.

The Junior Musicales is a study club composed of girls who are interested in furthering their musical knowledge. This year the Junior Musicales has been studying "Folk Music of all Countries." A very interesting discussion was led by an appointed leader each meeting.

The annual Valentine Dance was given on February 11, the money for which was raised by doughnut sales.

BAND

The inspiring music and blue-and-white uniforms of the Tipton High School band have never failed to create admiration in the crowds, and although it is not an organization, and has no officers, it does maintain an important place in school activities.

Last fall, under the efficient direction of Mr. Planck, the band furnished music for the County Corn Festival. Those patriotic strains heard at the basketball games came from the band, too. At the band contest this spring, it made an excellent showing.

Tipton High is justly proud of the rapid manner in which its band has advanced.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girl's Athletic Association, composed of sixty-six high school girls, chose the following officers for the year: president, Julia Richards; vice president, Betty Williams; secretary, Rachel Stoner; treasurer, Caroline Teal; sponsor, Miss Hall, physical education instructor.

The organization is composed of the following minor clubs: tumbling, softball, basketball, tennis, fencing, skating, volley bnis, party planning, volley tennis, croquet, horse shoe, bowling, folk dancing, social dan-cing, and track. One of the most active of these clubs is the bowling club. Julia Rich-all, badminton, bicycling, hiking, table tennis is the star with an average of 115 for 8 games played at the Elwood bowling alleys.

During the year the club sponsored a skating party, gave a Sweater Swing and had a formal banquet. Awards were given to all girls who had made 500 or more points during the year.

With the enthusiasm that has been shown this year, the G. A. A. is sure to be very successful in the next year.

Miss Hall: Marjorie, what are the ankles for?
Marjorie Kinder: To keep the calves out of the corn.

"Is the head of the house in, Sonny?" asked the caller.

"No sir. There's nobody home but Dad and me."

Judge: Do you consider the defendant a reliable man? Has he a good reputation for truth and veracity?

Witness: Well, to be honest with you, that man has to get somebody else to call his pigs at feeding time. They won't believe him.

Detective (on scene of murder): The knife must be left in the body.

Wife of Victim: "You're making it awkward you know. I've got visitors coming for dinner.

"So you asked Betty to marry you?"

"Yes, but I didn't have any luck."

"Didn't you tell her about rich Uncle Dan?"

"I did; Betty's my aunt now."

A midget died. His wife had him embalmed and laid out upstairs. About a day later a friend called to view the last remains. He was directed upstairs. Upon descending he remarked to the bereaved one how nice her husband looked.

"Did you shut the door?" she asked.

"Why, no", replied the astonished visitor.

"Oh, my gosh," said the wife, "the cat has had him downstairs twice already today!"

Bob McIntosh says gentlemen prefer blondes but he thinks the fact that blondes know what gentlemen prefer has a lot to do with it.

INTRAMURAL

At the start of the basketball season the Tipton High intramural teams were chosen. The teams were comprised of all boys in Tipton High School interested in playing basketball. The teams selected were: Jitterbugs, Comets, Pollywogs, Flying Eagles, Drawbacks, Kentucky Moonshiners, Zipps, Freshmen and Humdingers.

Standings were kept of the teams all season. The four teams having the highest standing played a tournament for the championship at the end of the season. Freshmen vs. Kentucky Moonshiners; Zipps vs. Humdingers.

The Freshmen and the Humdingers, winning in hard fought games, battled it out in the final game. After a good fight, the Freshmen triumphed 24-22, taking the intramural crown.

Boys on the Freshmen team who saw action in the final game were: Foland, Graham, Ertel, Fretz, Jackson, Hoover, Florey, and Tudor. Boys on the Zipp team who were on the floor for the final were: Fox, Posey, Goodnight, Cole, and Dennis.

Tipton High School's golf team will be back on the fairways, with such prospects as Jack Ramsay, Phil Huffine, Paul Graham, Owen Suits, and Charles Maines taking part. Tryouts will be held at the opening of the golf season. The Central Indiana Conference golf tourney will be held at the Tipton links, and with the boys mentioned above in their hitting par, Tipton will be a prominent contender.

TRACK

With the track completed at the city park, Tipton High now has a place for the 1939 track team to workout. Here-to-fore practice has been conducted in alleys, streets and the drive around the city park. The building of this track will tend to bring this sport back into the limelight of Tipton High School.

Having most of the boys of last year's track team left over, there are prospects for a good team this year. Tryouts will be held a few weeks before the actual track season starts. Mostly Freshmen and Sophomores will be chosen, since it will take a few years to build up a real team. From all information we have gathered, we do not know who will be selected, but we are sure they will be boys capable of track merit. We wish the best of luck to the track team of 1939.

BASEBALL

In nine starts of the season Tipton High School's baseball team won seven and lost two games. They placed second in the Tipton County League, Goldsmith coming out first. The members of the team are: Bill Small, Warne Jones, Ora Jones, Floyd Cooper, Jim Tudor, Luther Leininger, Vilas Woods, Wilbur Williams, Robert Albright, Charles Fehlinger, Jim Ertel, Seth Wheatley, Paul Graham, and Bill Goodnight. The class of '39 is proud of their fine play on the diamond.

The Tipton Blue Devils in their opening baseball game, September 9, defeated Kempton on their own grounds, hitting 10 runs to their opponents 3.

In the second game, the Blue Devils triumphed over the Sharpsville Bulldogs 9-4.

Prairie Aces beat the Blue Devils 4-2 on the Prairie diamonds, September 16.

The Blue Devils won out over the Windfall Dragons 11-0, September 20 on the Windfall grounds.

Back on the Tipton field on September 23, the Tipton boys beat Goldsmith 12-2.

Tipton defeated Kempton September 27, second time of the season, 15-1 on the home grounds.

At Sharpsville, September 30, the Devils won 8-1.

October 4, on the Tipton diamond, the Blue Devils championed over the Prairie Aces 14-9 in their second game of the season.

In their last game of the season the Blue Devils were beaten 6-3 by Goldsmith on the Goldsmith diamond on October 6.

THE 1938-39 BASKETBALL TEAM OF T. H. S.

The team of 1938-39 was one of the best that Tipton High School has even turned out. We who write this didn't get a chance to see the teams before our time, but the ones who were there then, agree as to the superiority of the squad. They were a smaller team than many of those in the past; yet they made up for it with the fast pace of their plays. Their inexhaustible energy was uncanny, for we have seen them in a game in which their opponent looked as if they were ready to quit; however, the Blue Devils always retained their vigor. Ward's boys played against taller, heavier teams with great ease. Their flashing attack, added to their defensive prowess was marvelous, considering their size. All of this and their fighting, cooperative spirit made them a team, for us the class of '39, to be proud of.

Nevertheless, we would have been unable to praise the team as much as we have, if it hadn't been for the power behind the throne—John W. Ward. His coaching ability is par excellence, for he built a mediocre team into a strong, dependable force. With Ward at the helm the job of making a great team is half done at the start.

The First Ten:

Bill Small (Senior-guard-captain) It was nothing for Bill to drive through an opponent's defense, and sink one from under the basket. It was he who kept the boys on their toes when the going got tough. He rated second in C. I. C. score rating.

Warne Jones (Junior-forward) He could make the basket from any angle and was strong on defense. Warne will be a four-year man next year.

Ora Jones (Junior-forward) He could slip them in from anywhere. In the middle of the clash was always "Battlin' Buck".

Paul Achenbach (Senior-guard) The mainstay of the team—always there in the clinches. His need will be felt next year.

Raymond Orr (Senior-guard) "Honk" was a sharp shooter of merit—count on him for action.

Edwin Gray (Junior-center) The sixth man on the team. He was fast and keen.

Ed Enneking (Sophomore-center) Just remember the Tipton-Sheridan tangle in the final game at the sectional. That's plenty!

Charles Fehlinger (Senior-guard) He didn't get to see as much action as some of the others, but he was something to be proud of when he got a chance.

Earl Henson (Junior-guard) One of the best reserves.

Jack Ramsay (Junior-forward) Hard hitting, fast stepping player.

THE SECOND TEAM OF 1938-39

Tipton High School's second team had a very good season, winning 13 and losing 6. They had the power and strength which will make a great team next year. Everyone in high school should be very proud of this team.

Members of the team were: Charles Ludwig, Seth Wheatley, Floyd Cooper, Norman Michel, Gene Hoover, Leroy Smith, Paul Graham, Ralph Albright, John Robinson, Jack Fuller, and Cleon Plake.

Freshmen who saw action on the second team were: Jim Ertel, Jim Tudor, George Fretz, Jake Hoover, and John Graham.

The season:

Tipton 30	Windfall 9
Tipton 33	Alexandria 18
Tipton 30	Frankfort 16
Tipton 18	Hartford City 14
Tipton 25	Burris (Muncie) 20

Tipton 19	Elwood 12
Tipton 14	Sheridan 17
Tipton 17	Peru 11
Tipton 12	Kokomo 16
Tipton 18	Carmel 16
Tipton 21	Noblesville 13
Tipton 17	Rochester 21
Tipton 20	Elwood 15
Tipton 19	Wabash 21
Tipton 17	Marion 28
Tipton 26	Huntington 13
Tipton 24	Noblesville 21

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 1938-39 BASKETBALL SEASON

Coach John Ward called practice in the early part of October, and a month later on November 4, the Devils met Delphi in their first game of the season on Delphi's hardwood. It was a real battle from start to finish, with Ward's quintet losing by one point—20-19. When the night of November 11 rolled around Tipton won easily from the Windfall Dragons with a score of 25-10. Then on November 18 the team made a trip to Alexandria to be beaten 32-21 in a hard fought battle. The Tigers took the lead in the second quarter, having tied 6-6 at the end of the first and kept a good six points ahead of the Tipton five. The Blue Devils lost in a hard fight 37-33, to Frankfort on their own floor, November 22. Frankfort had a great advantage in that they were a heavier, taller, and more experienced team. Ward's men led 18-16 at the half, after trailing 9-7 at the end of the first quarter. Both teams gave their "all" with the Frankfort boys leading 26-25 at the third, and emerging the victors. On November 25 Hartford City was defeated in the Tipton gym by a score of 22-9. When Coach Ward's Blue Devils met the Burris Owls on December 2 in the Ball State gym, they were defeated by a score 35-37. There was never more than a four-point margin between the teams; yet Tipton trailed through most of the game.

Mr. Hiatt calls this one a "story book ball game", because of the events that took place on December 16 in the Tipton gym. It was the first Tipton-Elwood clash of the season, which the Panthers won 38-37. The gym was plunged into darkness during the third period, and it was about five minutes before the game could be continued. The score was 37-36 in favor of Tipton when Carmody of Elwood threw the ball, the gun fired, the ball dropped through the basket, and the game was over with Elwood the winner by one point!

December 23: Tipton was defeated 32-26 by the Sheridan Black Hawks on their floor. On January 6 the Blue Devils won their fourth game of the year from Peru with a score of 38-14 in Tipton's gym. Coach Ward's men bowed to Coach Campbell's Kokomo Wildcats 42-27 in a fast clash at Kokomo Saturday, January 7. The Devils gained an easy victory from Noblesville January 23 when they defeated the Millers 35-15. The Devils knocked off Carmel on their own floor 28-21. The Tipton team just wore the Carmelites out in this thriller. Rochester came to the Tipton gym January 20 to leave defeated 37-18 by the Devils—one of Rochester's worst defeats of the season. It was a dashing tilt from start to finish, with the boys also winning the silver horseshow of the Central Indiana Conference which they still hold in their possession. In the first overtime game of the season, with the score tied 30 all, Warne Jones, netted a long shot from the floor to take Elwood 32-30 in a hard-fought battle. This game was one of the most thrilling of the season as well as the only overtime.

Pushing ahead in the last minute of play Tipton succeeded in stopping Wabash's determined rally in the third and fourth periods to defeat Vic Dauer's boys 37-32 in a fast contest January 28 on the local hard-wood. Keeping right on the heels of the Marion Giants, Tipton's flashing five checked their opponents 29-22 in a tough tilt, February 4 on our floor. Most of Marion's shots were taken out from, rather than under the basket, for Tipton defense clicked brilliantly never letting their adversaries get under the basket. Tipton led constantly through the game. The Ward-men won this tilt the way they have won all their tough tilts this season by going at a fast pace throughout each encounter, and thus utterly wearing their opponent down. Tipton completely ran away from Huntington, a heavier, taller team, defeating the Huntsmen 36-18, February 10 on our home floor. It was an easier scrap than anticipated for Ward's boys. They simply stacked up a good lead at the start and held it. Shooting their last game of the season before tournament time, the Blue quintet took their eighth straight victory knocking Noblesville 43-23, under somewhat the same circumstances as the earlier game with the Millers. The game was played February 24 on Tipton's floor.

SECTIONAL AT SHERIDAN

Tipton opened at the sectional by defeating Fishers 44-24 in an easy game. In their third encounter of the season with the Noblesville Millers, the Blue Devils won their second game of the sectional 46-31. The Tipton-Carmel fight was altogether different in the semi-final clash. The Carmelites slowed Tipton down through the first three periods; the boys seemed frustrated by their tactics of such a slow pace which they were not used to. However, in the fourth quarter, Carmel was unable to follow out their scheme, because the Devils rushed so furiously. Pulling out of the rut, the locals swept to a 31-25 victory. Ward's boys defeated the Sheridan Black Hawks 33-26 in the final game. In the second quarter the Devils began clicking, playing into a seven-point lead (18-11) at the half. Then during the third quarter the Hawks threatened Tipton's lead but the Blue Devils remained ahead coming out with another victory.

REGIONAL AT MARION

Tipton took their second victory for Wabash, when they defeated them 40-30 in the semi-finals. The score was tied at 8-all, first quarter; second, 20-17; and third 28-20—Tipton. Play was very fast with both teams giving everything they had. Fighting desperately to stage a rally in the third and fourth quarters in the final game of the regional, Coach Johnny Ward's Blue Devils suffered defeat from Coach Campbell's Wildcats 56-44. The Devils fought their best battle of the year, and went down after they were unable to stop the Kats fast attack which had netted 28 field goals at the final gun. The absence of Bill Small was felt greatly, for his inspiring playing was needed. Also Coach Ward's absence, because of sickness, was a handicap to the team. Nevertheless the Blue Devils kept their "never say die" spirit, falling gallantly to defeat.

The Season's Scores:

Tipton 37	Rochester 18	Tipton 19	Delphi 20

The youth of forty years ago and the youth of today are much alike as to ambitions, but differ greatly as to opportunities and training. Then a boy wishing to enter college—prepared himself for an established profession, legal, medical; perhaps journalism; and teaching was practically the only field open to the girl. New discoveries in science and technology have opened an almost limitless field to the boy and girl of today. New industries have sprung in to existence within the last forty years—radio, automobiles, moving pictures, air-conditioning and aeronautics,—each one bringing new fields of endeavor for the modern youth. Great strides have been made in the so-called vocational subjects. Economic changes have resulted in enlarged social and civil service opportunities. Schools have endeavored to keep pace with the ever changing demand and so the American boy and girl of today finishes his high school training not only with a knowledge of the classics, but also practical knowledge of commercial subjects, mechanical and industrial arts, agriculture and home economics, thus better fitted by training, to find his place in life—than the youth of forty years ago.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

Fri. 2—School again! And are we happy! (No this isn't sarcasm.)
 Mon. 5—Isn't the first day of school fun with the freshmen wandering around open-mouthed with awesome respect for the revered halls of T. H. S. or could it be the Seniors??
 Wed. 7—Vacation for those who have tickets to the State Fair. Aren't they lucky?
 Mon. 12—Today we were reseated again and did I get a keen seat partner! Oh boy! (I can just see my citizenship drop.)
 Tues. 20—Dear Freshies—Do you know how many light sockets in the assembly yet?

OCTOBER

Tues. 3—Today we selected the Senior class officers. The Williams' seem to be in the majority.
 Fri. 21—The annual Ti-Hi-Ec Hayride came around again and was quite a success except for the half-dozen bumped out of the hay wagon on the state road.
 27-28—Teachers' Institute again. Hurrah, a vacation for us—not long but greatly appreciated.

NOVEMBER

Fri. 11—School out at eleven o'clock. Program on the courthouse lawn in celebration of Armistice Day.
 Wed. 16—An interesting speech by Doctor Cordier on "Russia". Enjoyed by the whole student body at the Methodist Church.
 Thurs. 17—Mr. Howard Myers, prominent Indianapolis lawyer, spoke on "The Constitution". Afterwards we all enjoyed reading his collection of literature on the "isms" threatening democracy.
 Tues. 22—T. H. S. comes out on top again by winning a first and third in the oratorical contest.
 24-25—Thanksgiving vacation—Oh, the best part of school is the vacation and this one went too fast—with so much turkey and everything.
 Tues. 29—We learned all about conservation today from Mr. Harold Mosebaugh who spoke this morning.

DECEMBER

Tues. 6—Sophomores and Freshmen have sufficiently grown in knowledge and stature to be allowed to elect their officers. And a good job they did, too.
 Wed. 14—A different sort of program was held in the gym—and how! An athletic wedding was performed by girls of the high school. And did they look cute in shorts!
 Fri. 16—The Mosebaugh Cousins entertained us this morning. They gave us a welcome change and we hereby cordially invite them back again.
 Wed. 21—Free Show!! Sponsored by the American Legion. And a funny one, too, "Swiss Miss."
 Thurs. 22—Christmas Carol program in gymnasium preceding our annual vacation. Gee, I can hardly wait until Santa comes.

JANUARY

Mon. 2—Back to school. Vacation over—weep, weep?
 Wed. 4—Raymond Coe and his students presented a program on steel guitars. Everyone enjoyed the music!
 Tues. 10—Mumps! Mumps! Just like a fad as its going right around the school. I haven't had them yet so, I'm holding my breath!
 Wed. 18—Mysterious Brown and his magic. I don't think magic's my line—couldn't figure out any of the tricks.
 Wed. 25—Rev. Haddock—religion—seems like Sunday morning.

FEBRUARY

Wed. 1—Mr. Clary and the brass quartet entertained us. We liked them both.
 Tues. 7—The Tri Kappa had a Mexican Fiesta for all the Senior girls. Had a bully time.
 Fri. 10—Safety motion pictures, fire drill, and club pictures! Why can't days like this come oftener!
 Sat. 11—Junior Musicale Valentine Dance. Hearts, hearts, and more hearts—(both kinds.)
 Mon. 13—Lincoln program—The Gettysburg Address well given and explained by two high school students.
 Wed. 15—Music by the Junior Musicale and a skit on manners by home economics department (plus two boys).
 Wed. 22—Rev. Gray spoke on the Characteristics of Washington—Good and enjoyed by everyone.
 Fri. 24—G. A. A. Sweater Swing. And did we swing it! Why can't we have these oftener?

MARCH

Wed. 1—An exceptional program this morning as Mrs. Lew Richards gave a book review "All This and Heaven, Too". One of the highlights of the school year.
 Fri. 3—Another vacation, sort of unexpected, too. We all went over to the sectional to see Tipton "bring home the bacon". (Recognize Ward's favorite expression?)
 Mon. 6—Pep session and snake dance! Are we ever proud of the boys!!!
 Tues. 7—Mattingly caught first mouse in the assembly!
 Wed. 8—Rev. Kierstead spoke to the assembly today. It was very good!
 Thurs. 9—Girls Advanced Home Economics class went to Indianapolis visiting. Took in all the hospitals they could find and then rested their feet for a week afterwards!
 Fri. 10—Ti-Hi-Ec Dance—good crowd, grand music, and beautiful decorations, all together, quite a dance!

A BUSY DAY

It's up in the morning at breaking day
To pack up my school books, and tear away,
I rush in the assembly at eight twenty-nine
To watch the "Prof's" faces go in a decline.

I pass to my classes, one by one,
I nap in the assembly, (oh, such fun!)
Hiatt stalks up the aisle and gives me a shake
I start from my dreams and quickly awake.

The last period is over, the final bell rings,
It takes me no time—my feet must have wings.
I run from the school house—I'm really fast,
I'm home in a rush, for the eight periods have passed.

—Robert Lett.

THE END OF SCHOOL

The last of school has almost come;
The end is very near,
The end of misery for some,
But others shed a tear.

You'd think that those who have to leave,
Would feel a little sad.
"Not us!" the Senior boys proclaim,
"For we are very glad."

The girls are echoes of the boys;
They say, "We'll never cry."
Though surely they will miss the school
And hate to say good-bye.

But we who have to come again
Will for a while be gay,
And we intend to have some fun
While still our "Dads" will pay.
—Estelena Crooks.

THE BACK SEAT DRIVER

The back seat driver has lots of fun
Telling the front seat driver how the driving's to be done.
She tells you to stop when the sign says go;
She tells you to pass four cars in a row;
She tells you when to stop, go fast, and blow.
But what in the heck does a back seat driver know?
—Vivian Louise Hinkle.

*CAUGHT NAPPING

When sitting here in school one day,
A snooze I thought I'd take,
Because for some unknown reason,
It was hard to keep awake.

I put my elbow on my book,
And my head upon my hand,
And then my mind began to drift,
To a far-off tropical land.

I was drifting off so easily,
Not conscious of a thing,
When suddenly I was startled
By the bell's outrageous ring.

But I thought I'd just ignore it,
And continue my sweet slumber,
When all at once I realized
The teacher had my number.

—Carl Miller.

MUMPS

With a sticky poultice against my cheek
And a hot pad on my chest;
All wrapped up in a sky-blue shawl—
A color I detest!

With an appetite like a ladybug,
Although I'm not that small,
They brought me soup and tea and milk,
A menu that would pall!

Oh, then the days were dull and dreary;
The nights so dark and long;
I worried and fretted, sometimes sulked—
Life was not one sweet song.

But one day a ray of hope appeared;
I found it 'er the dawn.
I rubbed my eyes and cried with joy
"The swelling all has gone."

Nina Trabue.

LOOK OUT FRESHMEN

In the latter days of September a boy in the first year of high school, who may happen to be walking peacefully along the street, might be greatly scared out of his wits by the blood-curdling war cry of "freshman". Upon coming to his senses he would be horrified to see a horde of savage upperclassmen—a large percent of them being sophomores—descending upon him like eagles after prey.

Despite their seemingly bloodthirsty disposition at the time of the initiation they are gentle and very smart and intelligent (they think), but as a freshman I suppose I shouldn't say anything. It does seem pretty mean of them to confiscate the pants of a helpless freshman, and especially at the first of the year when he feels out of place anyway. It doesn't seem to matter to them who you are with or how many times you have already been initiated; they run you down and do it all over again.

The upperclassmen laugh at the hapless freshman whom they may see counting light sockets, but I suspect if they would recall to memory, they would remember the days when they counted them; or perhaps got into the wrong classroom. At the first of the year the upperclassmen make the freshman feel small, but I suppose they were treated the same way and have to take their spite out on someone (why us?) So all I can say is, "We'll be sophomores next year—then LOOK OUT, FRESHMEN!"

—Leroy Clark.

Fads! Fads! Fads!

How quickly they catch and hold.
They serve a purpose for a while
Then they soon become old.
Change, Change, Change,
The craze in time reverts
And before this is finished, though 'tis strange
They've tucked in the tails of their shirts.
—Marjorie Moeller.

PRETENDING

I sat beneath a tree in the deep wood.
A murmuring brook
Splashed at my feet.
A book lay at my side,
And my dog sleeps near by in the sun.
Around me the grass was cool and green
And the bees buzzed as they
Gathered pollen from the flowers.
A cool breeze rippled the water
And rustled the leaves.
I drew a breath of satisfaction.
Here was peace and tranquillity.
I closed my eyes and soon drifted into soft slumber.
Suddenly I heard a shrill bell;
I awoke with a start.
With a sigh of resignation
I collected my books and went to class.
My daydream was over.

—Norma Jeanne Bristow.

A JUNIOR BOY'S PLEA

Oh Teachers, of my junior year,
Oh Teachers, hear my plea!
Oh Teachers, I am filled with fear
A senior I'll not be.

Our Tipton girls' so fair to see,
Know how to roll their eyes;
Yet you permit this treachery
And expect us to be wise.

We boys do want to study hard;
To do this, we have fought,
But every time we get our cards,
Our folks get over-wrought.

Oh Teachers, you control my fate!
Oh Teachers, hear my plea!
If you don't all co-operate
A senior I'll not be.

Bob McIntosh.

BACCALAUREATE

A whisper from the organ drifted in the waiting room. I glanced again at my gown. It fell in soft, gray folds about me—an appropriate gown for the occasion.

My partner and I walked slowly through the aisle toward the flower-covered altar. As we took our designated places, I saw my mother sitting near me.

There were tears in her eyes. I hoped that they were tears of pride; I wanted her to be proud of me even if this were only a Baccalaureate. She had been, after all, my greatest incentive for finishing high school.

While the minister delivered his short sermon I realized that from now on my childish thoughts must be put away. This was a farewell to High School Days! The beginning of an adult life, which I firmly resolved to make a success.

—Alta Fuller.

MEMORIES

I can't remember everything;
Yet a few things I can't forget
I can't recall everywhere I've been,
Or all those friends I've met.
But somehow there's still a lingering spark
Of memory I hold dear
That makes me want to live again
This eventful Junior Year.

I like to recall the programs,
And the concerts by the band.
Nor will I forget the day
Spaulding spilt acid on her hand.
I won't forget the dances,
Or the ball games that we won,
The hayrides, plays and skating parties—
They all have been such fun.

I can't forget the nights I crammed,
All that stuff I tried to master.
I learned my dates all in an hour;
Then forgot them even faster.
But now our year is quickly ending
And as the final day draws near
We hope the Sophomores will enjoy our places
As we have this Junior Year.

—Wilma Jean Palmer.

THE TAIL OF A SHIRT

With disgust, and patience gone
For styles so worn and tried,
A student sat in Home Economics class
Trying hard to decide—
What? What? What?
If in time she could not convert
All the girls in her class to her brilliant plot
Of displaying the tail of her shirt.

See! See! See!
While the teachers, red in the face,
As the girls go boldly by,
Raise their eyebrows out of place.
Shame! Shame! Shame!
For along with the usual skirt
A dormant part of apparel came
It was certainly the tail of a shirt!

Mon. 13—Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley president of the W. C. T. U. spoke on "Alcoholic Beverages and Their Affects". Very impressive talk.

Mon. 13—Pep session—weep session also. Gave fitting honor to the basketball boys who carried on so courageously in the absence of the regular coach. Yea, Rah! Runyon! Nice coaching.

Fri. 17—Operetta "Once In a Blue Moon". Splendid cast—enjoyed by everybody.

Mon. 20—Mr. Tad Chapman, only deaf and blind man this highly educated, visited the school today. A wonderful program and one which inspires you to greater efforts on the part of studies and greater appreciation of your opportunities.

Thurs. 23—Practice began for the Senior class play, "Growing Pains,"—Good luck, Miss Coble, but we feel sorry for you with all that work ahead.

Sat. 25—The team was guest at the finals to see Frankfort win the state.

Mon. 27—Mr. Ward back at school and is the government class relieved—not such big assignments!

Wed. 29—Contest music for the state presented by the band. Mrs. G. G. Davis presented a book to Eileen Legg for tying for first place in a county essay contest.

APRIL

Sat. 1—Band contest; Tipton had a lot of luck in taking prizes—due to Mr. Planck's excellent teaching.

6-7—Spring Vacation!

Fri. 14—"Growing Pains" presented by the Senior Class.

Wed. 19—Open House.

Fri. 28—Gym Exhibition.

MAY

8-12—National Music Week.

Fri. 12—Junior-Senior. Thanks for a lovely time, Juniors!

Sun. 14—Baccalaureate.

Thurs. 18—Commencement.

Sat. 20—School Closes!

LEST WE FORGET!

Knee deep in a mystery with murders all
gory,

I'm almost coming to the end of my story;
A voice from the kitchen "The table's to set"
Woe is me!

Lest we forget!

And when at night my work is all done
And up to bed I start to run,
That same alarm clock is to wind and set,
To signal another day.

Lest we forget!

Barbara Martin.

All is quiet; all is well
'Til I am aroused by a clattering bell;
Why do I groan; why do I fret?
'Tis the alarm clock
Lest we forget!

'Tis study period; outlines to make
How can I ever stay awake?
A creaking board—I'll make a bet
'Tis Cline's approach,
Lest we forget!

ON DREAMING

For one with such a one-track mind as my own I dream exceedingly well. But I find my trouble is getting to sleep. Some people count sheep, take pills, or even lie on their tummies, which in some cases may be just the thing. But for the past week I've been experimenting on ways and means of getting a little "shut-eye". I find that if the sleeper is a good day-dreamer, he can use this means of getting to sleep. How? Well, when you pile into bed, start a good day-dream; you'll soon doze off still dreaming of that certain someone. Now, of course, if you insist on dreaming of Carole Lombard, I can't guarantee this method. I tried it once and finally had to go down and raid the ice box. But if you insist on getting to sleep quickly, Edna Mae Oliver is a sure-fire remedy. (Believe me you won't stay awake thinking about her.)

If you would really like to know how to control your dreams, you should read my recently published volume "Camouflage Dreaming" which can be found in all the best attics. Although sleeping is one of my choicest recreations, I find you should take the sour along with the sweet, or at least I did. You see I'm a night walker, or should I say I was a night walker until Grandma left an upstairs window open.

But back to dreams again. Never start a continued dream, for you can't tell from one dream to the next what's going to happen. Well, goodnight; after all I must finish this experiment.

She: Could you learn to love me?
He: I learned to speak Latin.

Souse: Thish match doesn't light.
Ditto: Thash funny. It lit alright before.
